

Conveyancing

Mills Oakley Lawyers has been providing property services, including conveyancing, since 1864.

Mills Oakley is a medium-sized full service commercial law firm with offices in Melbourne, Sydney and Brisbane. We act for a broad range of vendors and purchasers of property, and also some of Australia's largest developers in their off-the-plan sales.

Our expert team undertakes conveyancing services for vendors and purchasers. Our lawyers are supported by a specialised team of law clerks, all who are very experienced in handling conveyancing and settlements as efficiently as possible.

Our standing in the legal service industry has been recognised by winning "Law Firm of the Year 2010" for our Melbourne Office at the ALB Australasian Law Awards, and being named one of Australia's top 5 fastest growing law firms by the Australian Financial Review in June 2011.

At Mills Oakley we pride ourselves on making life easier for you. We take away the stress often involved in achieving home ownership or buying a new home or additional property. We do this by utilising an exceptional conveyancing process incorporating the latest technology.

However, we understand that technology never replaces the human component and our excellent team of conveyancers are committed to providing first rate client service is second to none.

Our focus is on providing our clients with astute and practical legal advice within tight time frames. We are committed to ensuring our clients are provided with a seamless service tailored specifically to the needs of each client at competitive rates.

For all of your conveyancing queries and needs, contact Mills Oakley Lawyers.
