This toolkit has been developed to assist organisations in undertaking a merger. Mergers can be very rewarding, but require significant time and resources in order to be done successfully. The toolkit reflects our experience and the current literature in the area and has been developed into checklists and tables for ease of use.

Some tips before starting

1. The merger should be in the best interests of members/beneficiaries.
2. A shared vision or goal should be agreed early in the process to provide positive motivation and clarity.
3. The organisations should be compatible in terms of culture and values.
4. Effective communication is vital from the outset – processes, outcomes and requirements of each party must be clear.
5. Identify key roles and responsibilities in the merger process.
6. Anticipate difficulties and develop a process for resolving issues.
7. Ensure that there are sufficient resources to meet agreed deadlines (resources are often underestimated).

Merger Integration Process

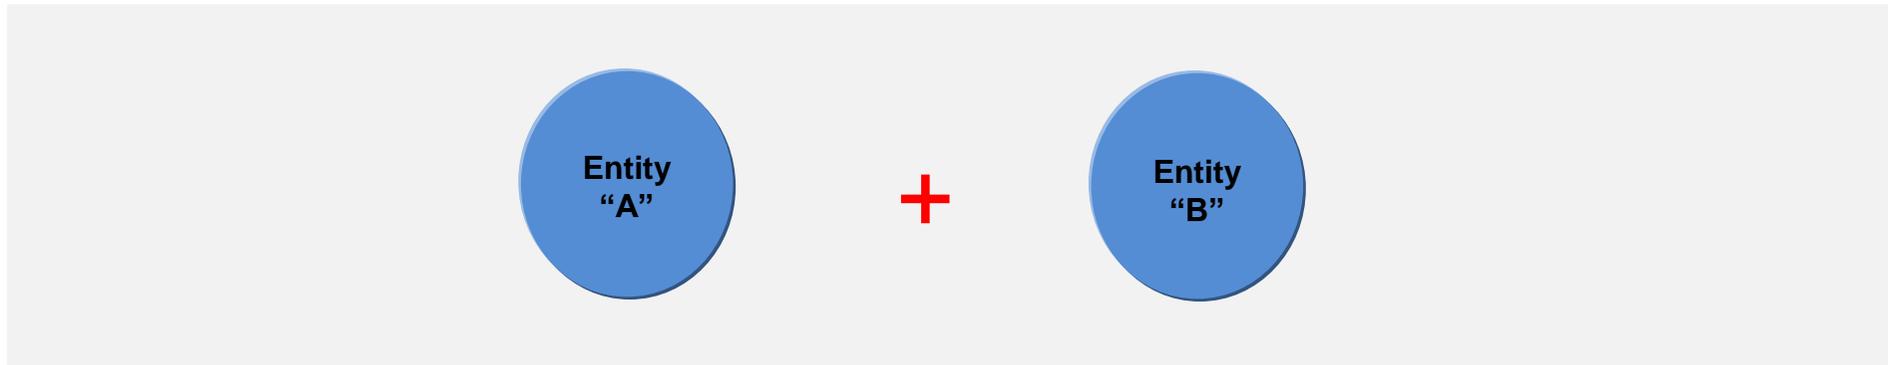

1 – CONCEPT PHASE

Summary of Merger Options

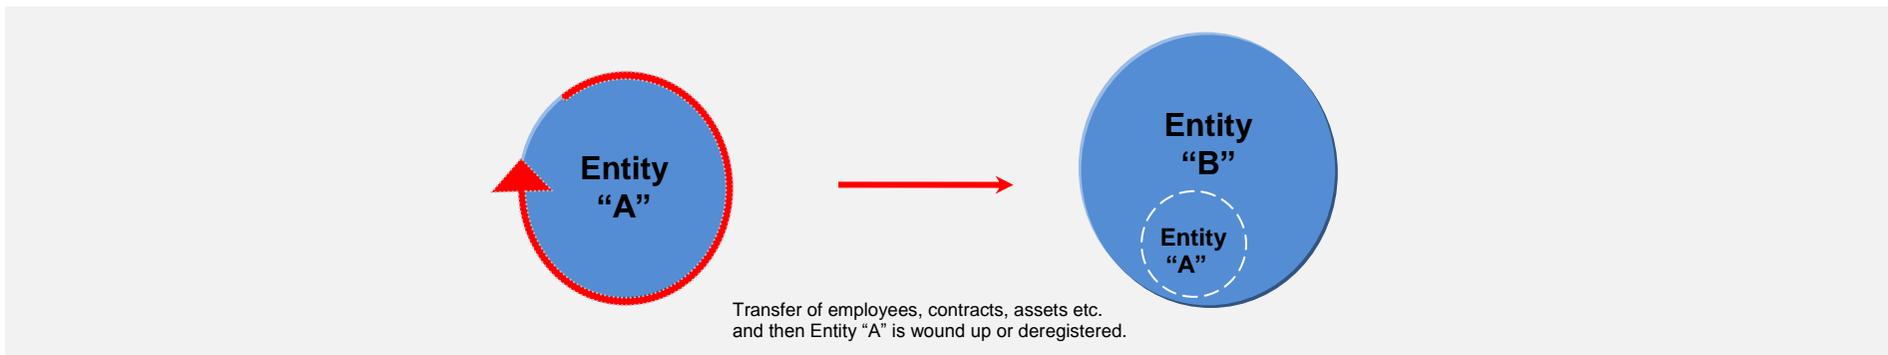

Option 1 - Entity “A” subsumed by Entity “B”

Entity “A” agrees to transfer all of its property, employees, contracts, assets etc to Entity “B” (i.e. becomes subsumed by Entity “B”) and then Entity “A” ceases to exist. The end result is that only one organisation remains, which is Entity “B”.

Before

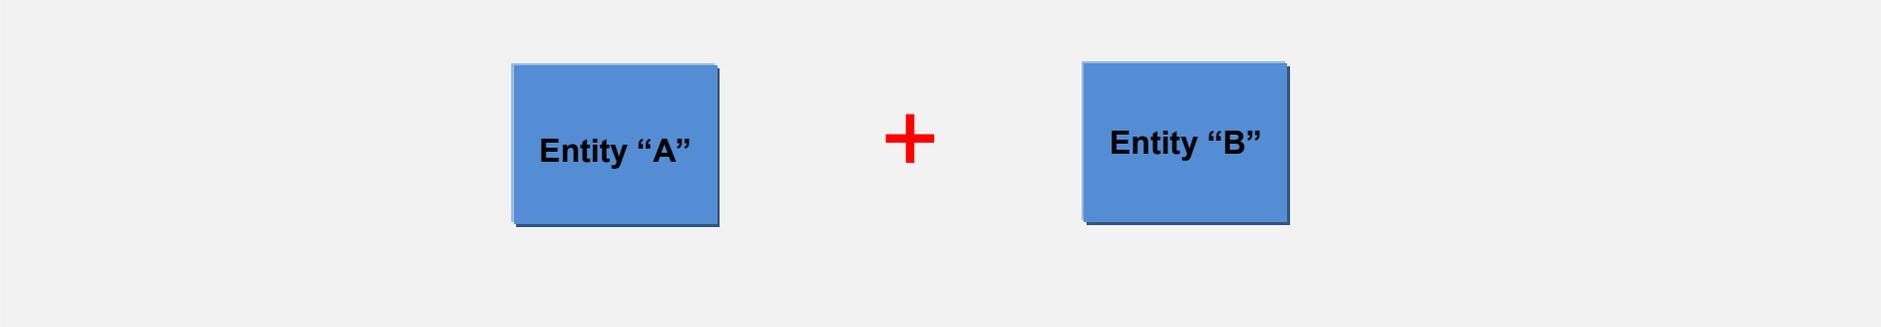

After

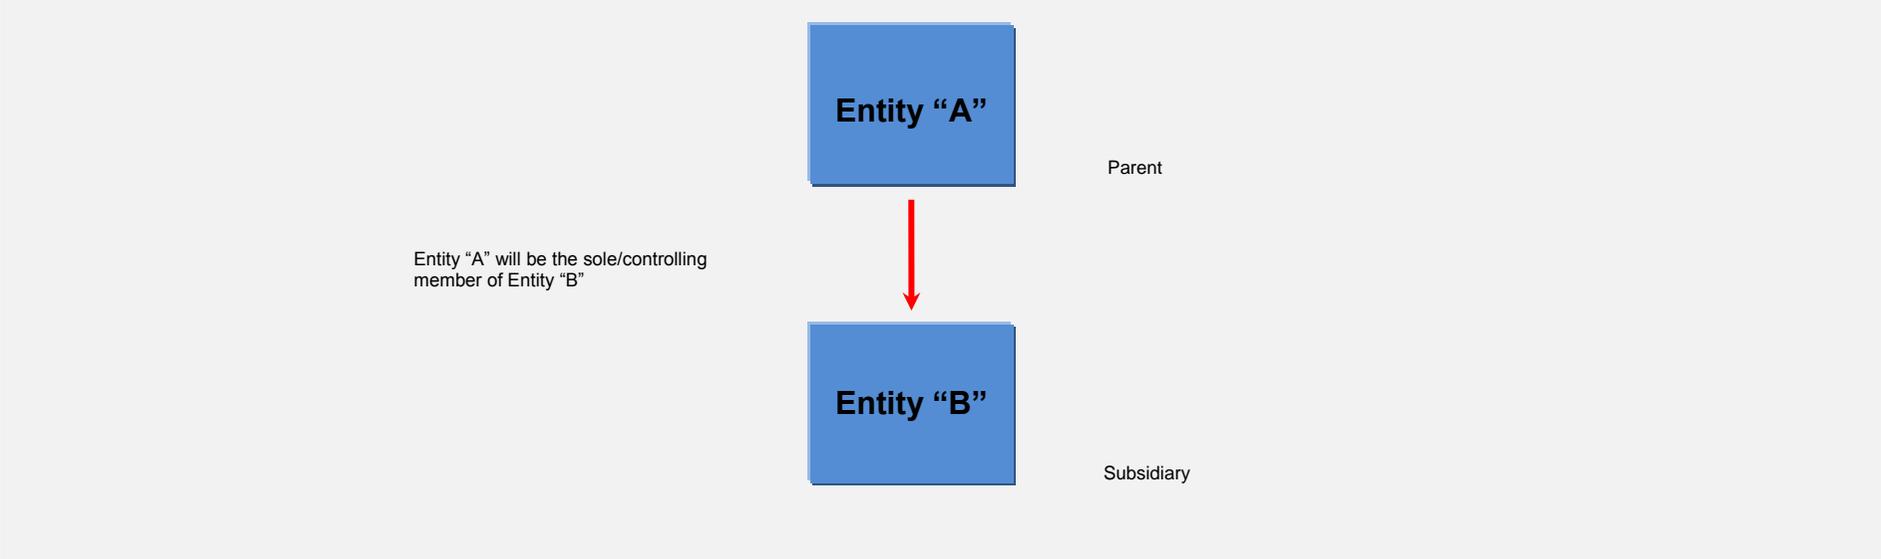

Option 2 - Entity "B" as subsidiary

Entity "B" can change its structure so as to have Entity "A" as the controlling (and/or sole) member of Entity "B". The result is that Entity "A" becomes the parent of Entity "B", and Entity "B" becomes the subsidiary of Entity "A". This means that the end result is that both organisations remain in existence and generally have separate legal liability.

Before

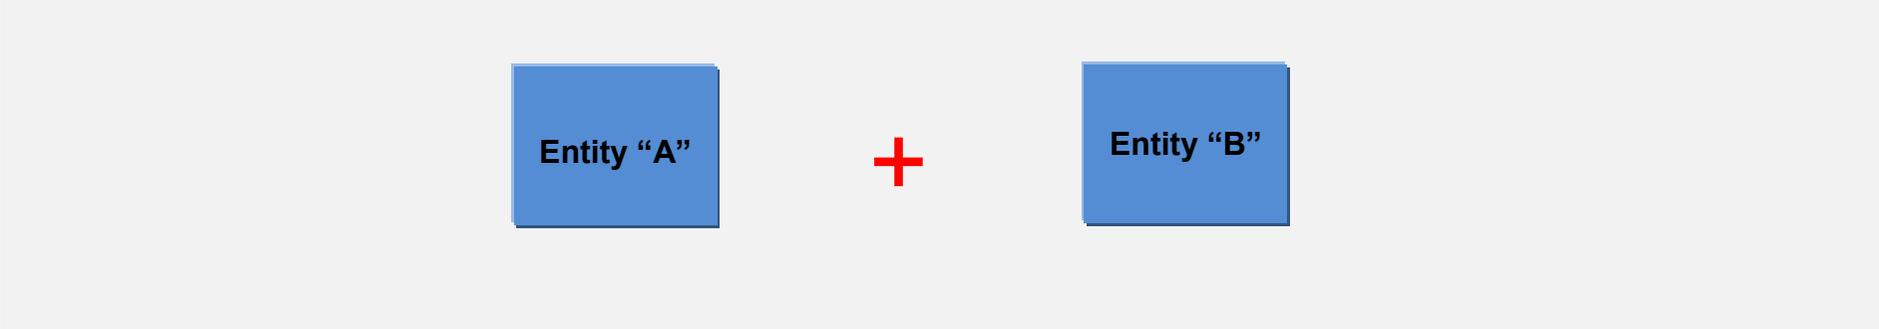

After

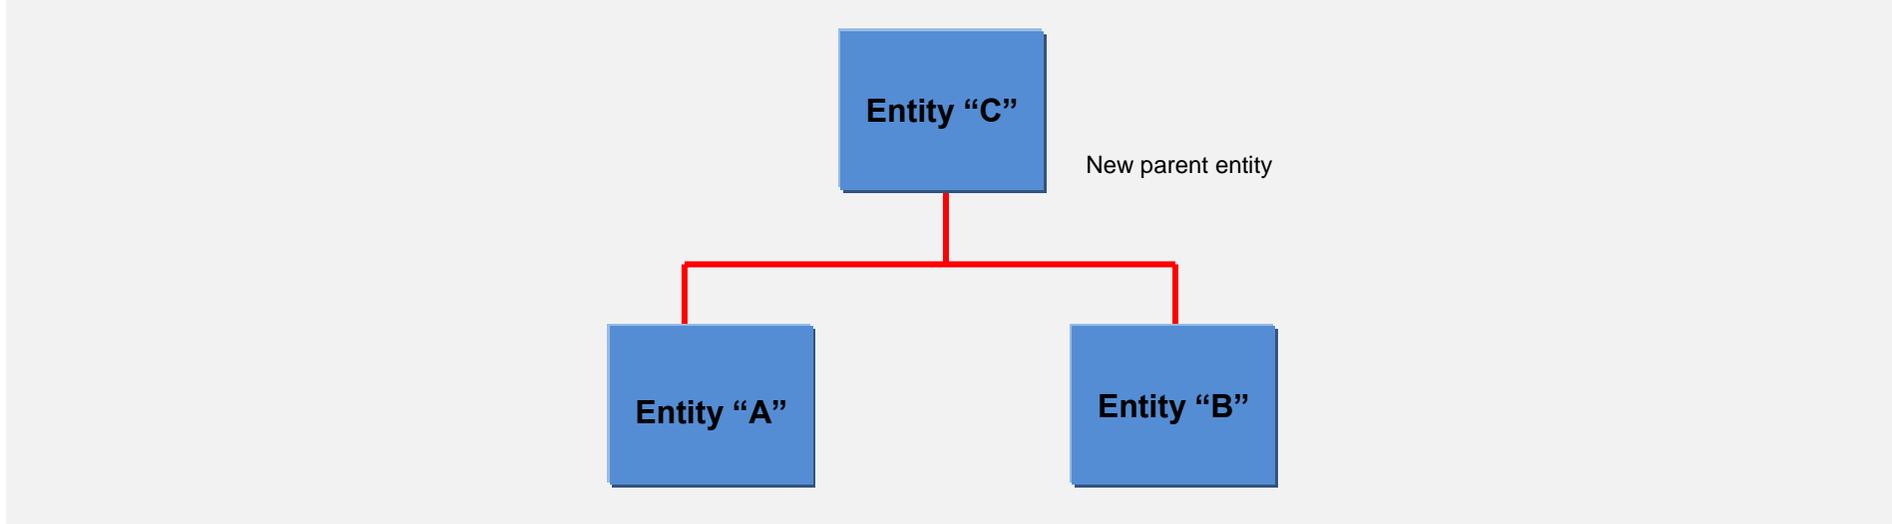

Option 3 - New parent entity

Create a new parent which sits above both Entity "A" and Entity "B". This has the end result of both organisations remaining in existence, without one organisation feeling as if it has been "taken over" by the other. It is also most suitable where both Entity "A" and Entity "B" are of a similar size, meaning it is not appropriate for one entity to become the parent of the other (which is option 2 above). In this instance both Entity "A" and Entity "B" remain as they are, with a new parent entity sitting above both entities.

Before

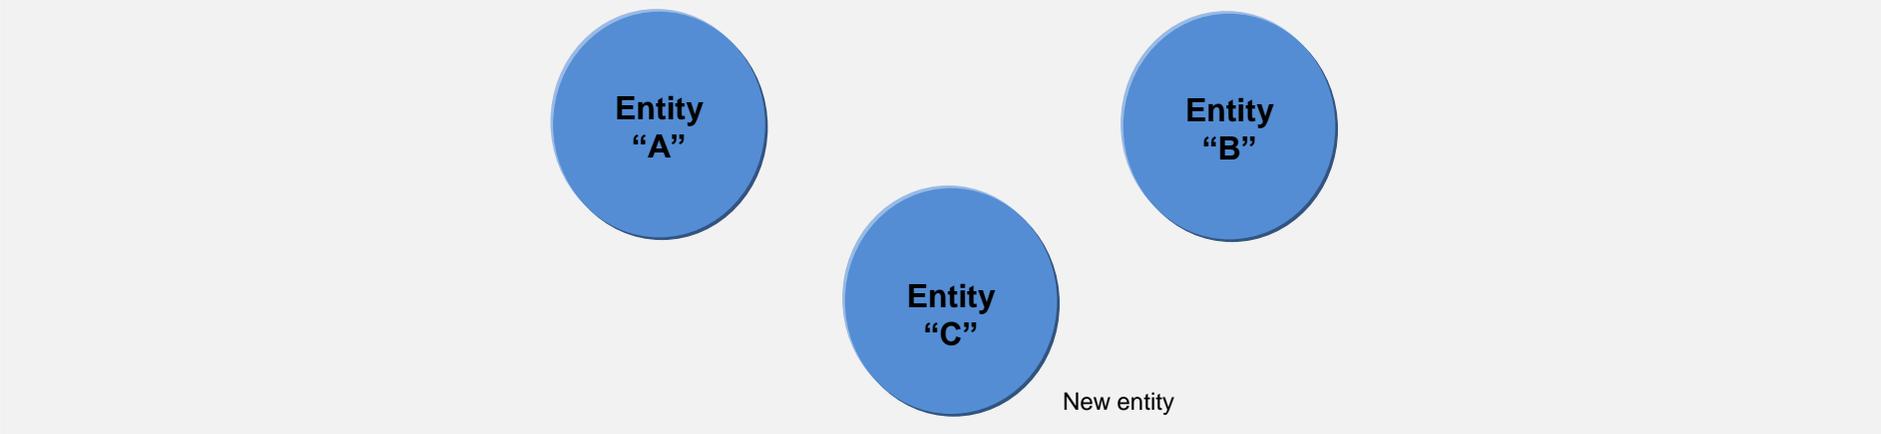

After

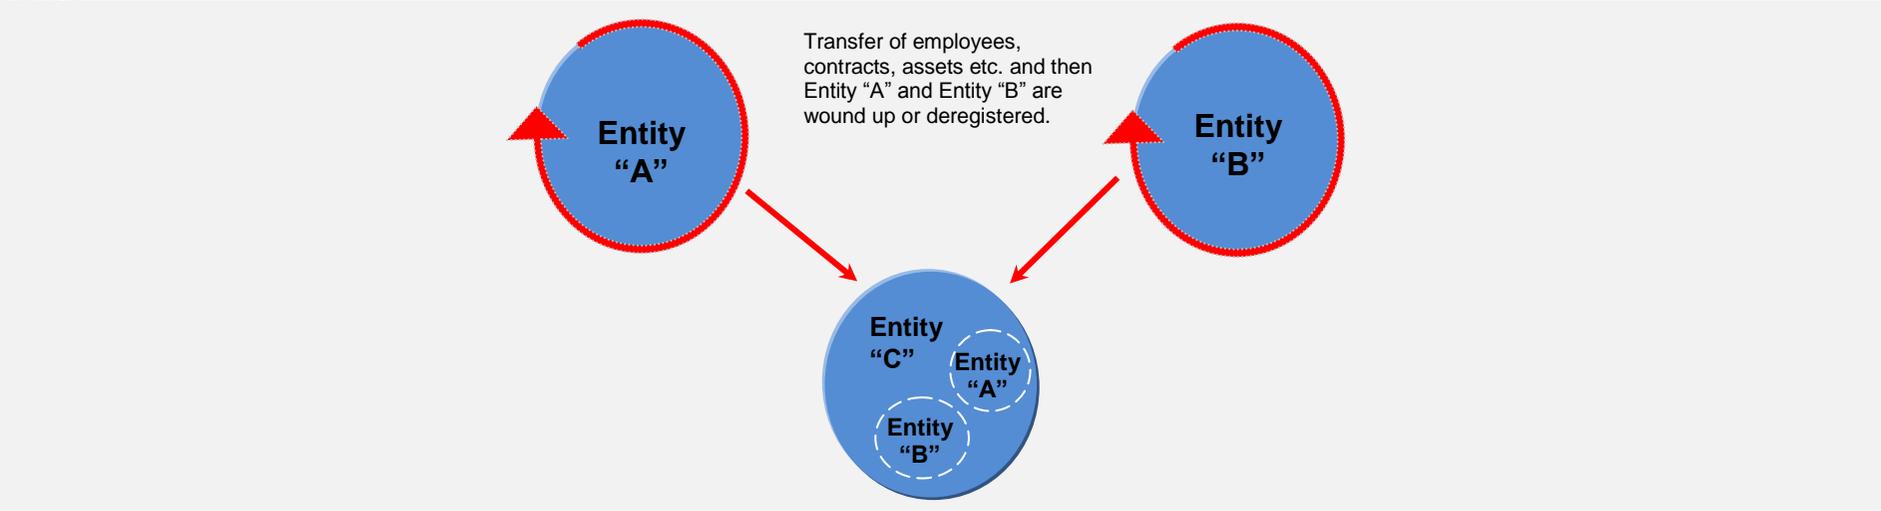

Option 4 - New entity and Entities "A" and "B" cease to exist

Create a new parent entity. Both Entity "A" and Entity "B" agree to transfer all of their property, employees, contracts, assets etc to the new entity, Entity "C". Then Entity "A" and Entity "B" are wound up or deregistered.

Before

After

The benefits and disadvantages of pursuing any of the above options are as follows:

Option	1. Control	2. Funds	3. Identity	4. Ability to create economies of scale
Option 1 – Entity “A” subsumed by Entity “B”	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Entity “B” could consist of a limited number of representatives from Entity “A”, so that Entity “A” could still retain some control over issues at Board level. - Entity “B” would have complete control of every aspect of Entity “A”, as Entity “A” would be a part of Entity “B”. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Entity “B” can tender for and negotiate contracts on behalf of Entity “A” as Entity “A” would legally be a part of Entity “B”. - Entity “A” must transfer to Entity “B” any contracts it has. - The funds of the two companies would be completely merged, but some Entity “A” monies could remain protected. - This option would also mean that Entity “B” would assume responsibility for any liabilities of Entity “A” (both known and unknown). 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - It is possible that Entity “A”’s brand could be subsumed by Entity “B”’s brand. - No contracts would need to be transferred from either Entity "B" or Entity "A" to the new parent.

- The funds of the two organisations would remain separate. However, with appropriate changes being made to the constitutions of both organisations, both Entity "B" and Entity "A" could pay dividends to the parent in certain circumstances.
- This option would mean that Entity "A" would not assume responsibility for any liabilities of Entity "B" (both known and unknown), and vice versa.
- Donations would be made separately to each entity.

2 – MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

Key Terms

Once it is agreed that the two entities will seriously investigate a merger, it would be beneficial for the entities to agree upon and sign an MOU to set out how they will relate to each other up to the time that they agree to officially merge. Once they agree to merge, the entities will then enter into a formal merger agreement.

The key points to be included in the MOU are as follows:

- (a) which merger option has been chosen (out of the four options set out above in this paper);
- (b) how long the entities will have to decide whether to proceed with the merger or not;
- (c) confidentiality – both entities would need to promise to keep any information collected about the other entity confidential;
- (d) what rights each entity has to conduct due diligence of the other entity;
- (e) how long the entities have to reach agreement on the merger agreement if they agree to merge;
- (f) what rights of access each entity has to the other entity's staff, records, programme materials etc;
- (g) who in each entity will be the main contact person;
- (h) the fact that each entity will be responsible for its own costs in conducting the due diligence (unless agreed otherwise);
- (i) the fact that each entity can walk away from the discussions at any time (before any merger agreement is signed); and
- (j) the fact that each entity will deal exclusively with the other throughout the MOU period.

20.	Indemnities should be considered.	<input type="checkbox"/>
21.	The jurisdiction that will govern the merger must be specified.	<input type="checkbox"/>

4 – NEGOTIATE DEED OF MERGER

Preliminary Planning

Preliminary Plan
1.	Have we considered what areas of this company/association are unique and should be maintained? What are the core competencies we are trying to access? What areas/competencies of this company/association are redundant with ours?	<input type="checkbox"/>
2.	What is the appropriate structure for this relationship (and has our understanding of the best structure changed since it was first considered)? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – merger/acquisition – joint venture – joint marketing/distribution agreement – strategic alliance agreement – exclusive partnering agreement – licensing – commission/royalty agreement – consulting services – patent/technology option – internal development 	<input type="checkbox"/>
3.	Have we considered the costs associated with the different options: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – severance costs – relocation expenses – licensing fees – commissions/royalties 	<input type="checkbox"/>
Planning and communicating
4.	Have we identified an individual to manage the overall process?	<input type="checkbox"/>
5.	Do we have a project plan with milestones in place to manage the process?	<input type="checkbox"/>
6.	Have we established a project board, committee or group to oversee the project and to link into the respective governing bodies?	<input type="checkbox"/>
7.	What interim governance arrangements should we put in place during the merger process?	<input type="checkbox"/>
8.	Have we conducted a stakeholder analysis and established a communications plan that covers all existing and new stakeholders and audiences? This should cover communicating the merger to existing funders and staff.	<input type="checkbox"/>
9.	Have we identified the risks associated with merging, such as reputational or operational risks, and put systems in place to mitigate those risks?	<input type="checkbox"/>
10.	Have we identified ways to monitor the success of the merger and how it will be evaluated?	<input type="checkbox"/>

Information Systems

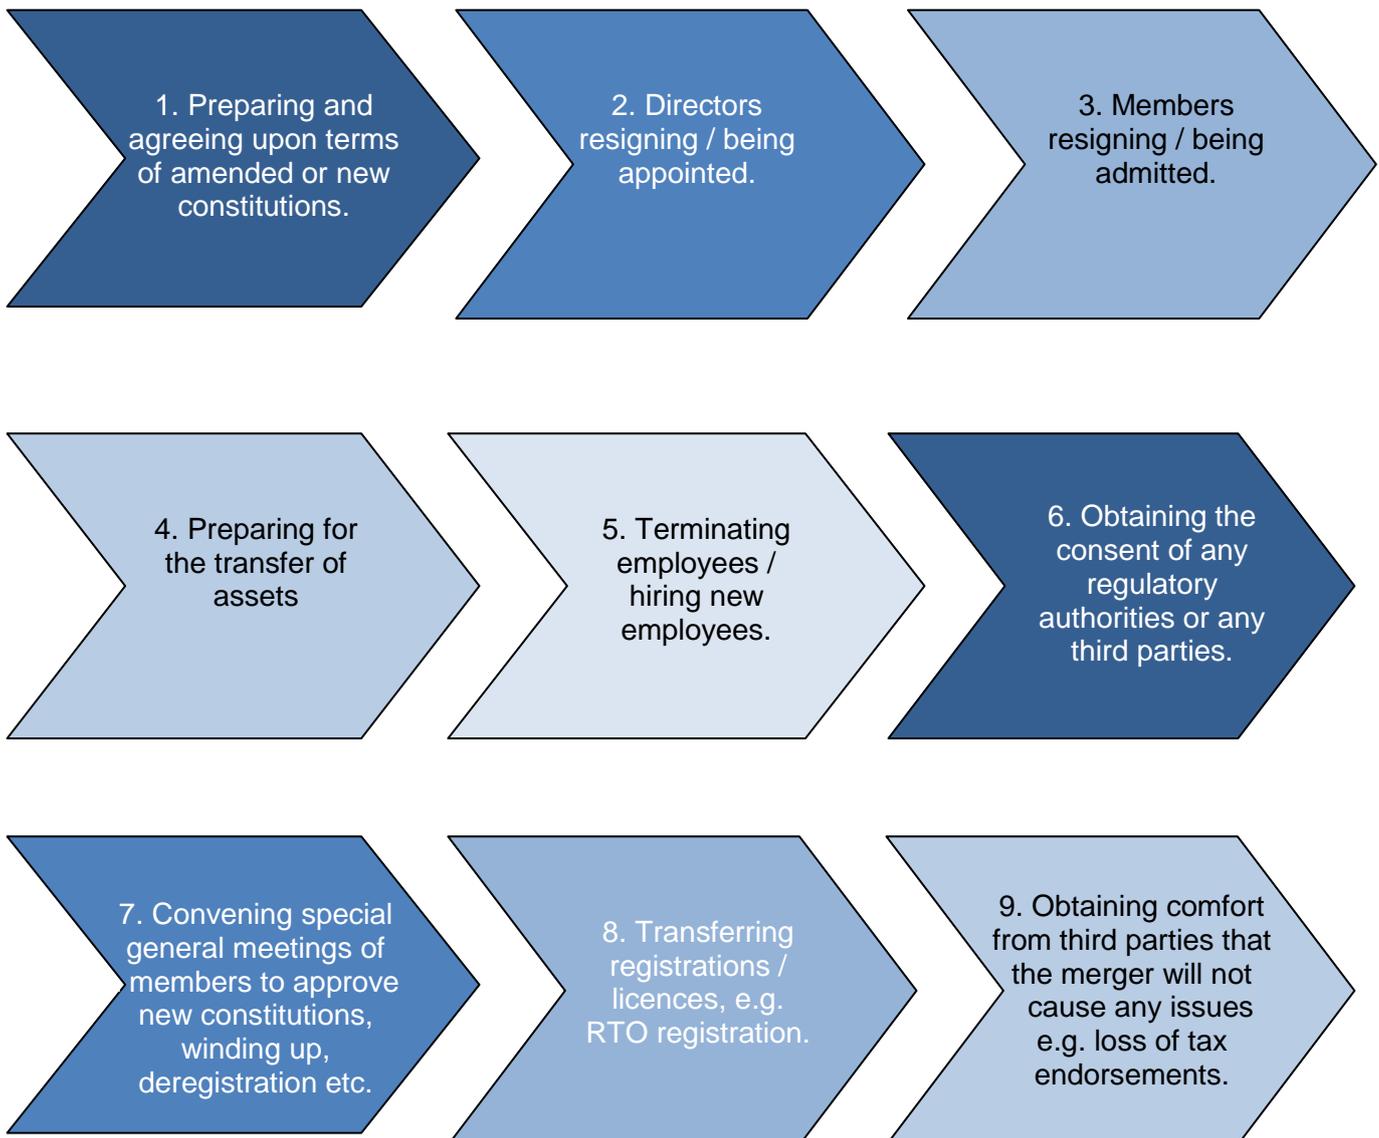

11.	What is the basic structure of the information system? How compatible is it with ours?	<input type="checkbox"/>
12.	What are the basic data models used? How compatible are they with ours?	<input type="checkbox"/>
13.	What metrics do they use and how are they tracked? How compatible are they with ours?	<input type="checkbox"/>
14.	What information systems/linkages will need to be established between the two companies?	<input type="checkbox"/>

5 & 6 – PRE-SETTLEMENT AND SETTLEMENT

The Process

The process to be followed in the lead up to, and to effect, settlement will vary depending on the merger structure option which was chosen (see pages 4 - 7). However, it would generally involve any of the following:

7 – POST MERGER Checklist

Assistance
1.	During the period of several months following completion of the merger, the retiring directors should make themselves available to assist the directors of the new entity with advice or guidance concerning the operations of the old entity.	<input type="checkbox"/>
