

Dr Teresa Nicoletti named Health Partner of the Year

2 May 2017

Mills Oakley partner Dr Teresa Nicoletti has been named Health Partner of the Year at the 2017 Lawyers Weekly Partner of the Year Awards, held in Sydney last Friday.

This Award recognises partners who partake in work affecting the medical, research and hospital sectors in Australia. Finalists had to demonstrate not only legal excellence in the health sector but also practice development and advocacy and leadership skills.

Winners were then selected by a 26-member panel of judges, who said of Teresa: “Driving innovation and advancing legal education in the public sphere, this winner impressed with her outstanding commitment to pro bono work and community contributions.”

Teresa was delighted to receive this prestigious award – the same award she took out in 2016. It consolidates Teresa’s status as Australia’s leading health practitioner, recognising her ongoing advocacy work in healthcare reform and the depth and breadth of her practice across the healthcare sector.

John Nerurker, Mills Oakley’s Chief Executive Officer, said of Teresa’s win: “Teresa’s back-to-back wins recognise her continuing focus on exceptional client service and legal excellence, and her important work in facilitating access to important medicines and healthcare.”
